CHEESY KIYA RE!

Here's a list of some mindless tracks with outrageous lyrics that rocked 2013

Jaya Biswas

Saucy, raunchy, corny, bizarre — to say the least — Bollywood lyrics couldn't get more suggestive or, dare we say, scandalous. Youngsters, however, never seem to mind these gandi baat at all. But then, who are we to complain? Ever since Big B initiated us to the concept of double-meaning songs by lip-syncing to Hum toh tamboo mein bamboo lagai baithe in Mard (1985) and AR Rahman raised a storm by composing for Rukmini Rukmini, in Roja (1992) — a naughty song that was openly expressive about a married couple's first night encounters — it hardly comes as a shocker even if Mika blasts on to the scene with Ishq ki naa ki in I Don't Luv U or Sunny Leone starts swinging to Laila teri le legi in Shootout 'At Wadala. So, which one do you think takes the cake?

GANDI BAAT

(R... RAJKUMAR)

SAREE KE FALL SA

(R...RAJKUMAR)

Saree ke fall sa/ Kabhi match kiya re/ Kabhi chhor diya dil/ Kabhi catch kiya re

This foot-tapping number by Antara Mitra and Nakash Aziz actually grows on you. Lyrics are as silly as it gets. Nonetheless, it's addictive and is already a hit at night clubs. The choreography, specially designed by Prabhu Dheva, has some of his trademark moves that works wonders.

DHATING NAACH

(PHATA POSTER NIKLA HERO)

Udan chu chu.../ Main chidiya firangi.../ Balam tu tu.../ Tu desi mousambi...

This peppy number starts with Nargis Fakhri crooning alluringly and you know where this song is heading! Shahid's effortless moves, however, serve as the saving grace because of which you don't really pay heed to the lyrics.
